Elizabeth Hines
CSSE 376 – Lab 6
March 29, 2012

1) I18n is the process that makes l10n possible without major changes to the program. L10n is when the program is actually changed to a specific language.
2) Because software should be adaptable switching between languages should be a piece of cake; that is essentially what i18n and l10n reinforce.